

The Yangtze Super Storm

The Yangtsz Super Storm Dragon is a rare type of mythical creature that is a symbol of diligence because they work hard.

Most Yangtsze Super Storms are red. However, a few yellow and orange Super Storms have been seen. They have the wings of a bat and the scales of a Godzilla. They are as strong as T-rex but are much faster.

Super Storms are found across the river of Yangtsz, especially around the Qu Yuan Temple where they feel safe. Usually, Super Storms feed on Mapo Tofu and Fung Po Chicken, but occasionally they enjoy eating Dongpo Pork from the market.

Yantsz Super Storms are renowned for being fast. Interestingly, they are very strong.

Dragonologists have been worried for many years about the habitat of the Yangtze Super Storm. To protect these beautiful creatures, all dragon lovers should be quiet around them and pat them when you see them.
