

Too Many Computer Games

Bob loves playing computer games. Bob is addicted to them. He plays computer games whenever he has free time. Last week, Bob wanted to play more than he should. Bob stayed up late at a school night to play. When Bob's mom barged inside his room loudly. "Bob, go to sleep NOW! You have an English test tomorrow and you're still awake?" Bob's mom scolded, stomping her foot loudly. Bob was startled by his mother and he immediately shut his computer down. Then, he placed his books in his backpack and went to sleep at 3 am. He felt too tired from playing so much.

The next day, Bob felt very tired. Bob's mom woke Bob up but he was reluctant. He did not have enough energy to wake up. He slowly put on his uniform and carried his backpack. He got to the living room and had breakfast with his mom.

He got his backpack and waited outside for the school bus with his friends. Bob sat down on a nearby bench and slept immediately. Bob almost missed the bus but luckily, his friend woke him up and got on the bus with Bob. When the bus arrived at school, they got off and headed to his class. Bob sat on his seat, handed in his homework and tried to stay awake.

In the English class, Bob needed to have a very important test. After the teacher handed everyone their test, Bob's teacher said, "You have one hour and thirty minutes to finish this test. This test is going to be a part of your report card so, I hope you have prepared for this. You may start now." Bob's teacher started the timer and began to walk around the classroom. Bob was so sleepy that he fell asleep. "Wake up, Bob!" Bob's teacher yelled, slamming her fist onto Bob's table but Bob didn't wake up. Bob's teacher decided to ignore Bob. After the timer's alarm went off, Bob jolted awake and realized that he didn't do the test. Bob felt really anxious and stressed.

When Bob got his test results back, his teacher looked at him with disappointment. Bob went home and gave the test to his mother to sign. Bob's mom was really angry at Bob for failing.

Bob was punished for not studying every day and was not allowed to use his electronic devices until he passed his tests. Bob felt very sad and regretted not spending his time to prepare for the test. He started to study more and study earlier.
